Prime Therapeutics Hires Charles Roehrick as Chief Financial Officer

ST. PAUL – Prime Therapeutics (Prime), a nationwide pharmacy benefit management company, recently announced that Charles Roehrick has joined the organization as Chief Financial Officer.

As CFO, Roehrick is responsible for all the financial functions of Prime including the corporate Controller and Treasurer offices, the Pharmaceutical Trade Relations department and the Pricing, Planning and Analysis department.

“Chuck is a great addition to Prime,” said Tim Dickman, President and CEO of Prime Therapeutics. “He has over 25 years of experience in finance and extensive experience with strategic planning, global operations and information systems. Chuck’s expertise and leadership will further enable us to focus on Prime’s mission of providing quality care for members and empowering clients to make informed health care management decisions.”

Roehrick was most recently CFO of Specialized Care Services, a segment of UnitedHealth Group and was also previously a segment CFO at Marsh and McLennan Companies. He earned a Bachelors Degree in Economics from Carleton College and a Masters Degree in Accounting from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is also a Certified Public Accountant.

Prime Therapeutics is a pharmacy benefit management company dedicated to providing, innovative, clinically-based, cost-effective pharmacy solutions for clients and members.
