Prime Therapeutics Hires Erin Ascher as Vice President of Human Resources

ST. PAUL – Prime Therapeutics (Prime), a thought leader in pharmacy benefit management, announced today that Erin Ascher has joined the organization as Vice President of Human Resources.

In her new role, Ascher is responsible for the overall direction of Prime’s Human Resources function. Her organization provides HR leadership for the growing Prime employee base that works to provide pharmacy benefit management services to 12.5 million people nationwide. While Prime’s corporate headquarters is located in Eagan, Minnesota, Prime also owns and staffs prescription mail service facilities in Irving, Texas and Albuquerque, New Mexico. One of Ascher’s key initiatives is to develop and implement new tools and training for the 1600 Prime employees who support Prime clients and members throughout the United States. Ascher will also focus on the creation of strategies to attract and retain talent as Prime continues to expand its product offerings and client base.

“We are very pleased to have Erin with us,” said Tim Dickman, President and CEO of Prime Therapeutics. “Prime is dedicated to supporting employees and offering multiple opportunities for career growth and development. Erin’s excellent leadership skills and strong experience in both human resources and talent development will help further this important corporate-wide commitment.”

Ascher earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Management from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio and a Masters of Science degree in Human Resources from Georgia State University in Atlanta, Georgia. She comes to Prime with nearly 20 years of experience in human resources and talent development. Before joining Prime, Ascher worked at Ecolab where she was
